

Leading every day for children, families, and the early childhood profession

Everyday work in the early childhood profession involves leading ethically and upholding child, family, and educator rights regardless of your role or position. In this keynote, Leanne talks about leadership as a collaborative, socially-just practice open to all educators. She encourages organisations to support the development of leading and leadership that embodies equality and educator empowerment for a world worth living in for all.

Presented by Leanne Gibbs

a time to thrive

www.ccsa.org.au/rrf